

Study Notebook

You can write down anything which may be useful for your language learning, such as simple sentences, paragraphs, put down newly learned words and expressions, make notes to use for presentations and speeches, and keep a diary. Resources are not limited to textbooks. Make use of movies and television dramas for your study. Try various methods.

